^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

PART 2 – PREMIUM PAYABLE

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The premium payable by an employer is determined by a range of factors. The primary factors that determine the premium payable by an employer are its remuneration and its industry rate (see clause 9). Remuneration is defined broadly in the Act so as to include wages, salaries, superannuation and other benefits payable to workers. Industry rates are set by the Authority itself (see clause 29) and reflect the claims experience of the industries in which the employer operates.

If an employer is either a small employer or a new employer, its premium is calculated using its remuneration and its industry rate. The premium payable for all other employers is calculated using the employer's remuneration and an experience rated premium rate (see subclause 9(3)). If an employer operates in more than one industry, it will be given a weighted industry rate (see clause 13).

Performance rating is the method by which premium rates are adjusted to take into account the actual claims experience of an employer (see clause 12). Performance rating compares the claims experience of an individual employer to the average claims experience within the relevant industry. Employers whose experience is better than the industry average receive a discount against the industry rate. Those whose experience is worse than the industry average receive a loading on top of the industry rate. The larger an employer, the more its own experience impacts on its premium rate.

Premium rate increases from year to year are generally capped (see clauses 9 and 14). Capping generally applies to workplaces that continue from one year to the next and that retain the same industry classification. Capping also applies to the imputed workplaces of labour hire employers.

Other factors that affect the premium payable by an employer are the deductible benefit (see clause 11), the minimum premium (defined in subclause 5(2)) and any buy-out premium (see clause 10).

The premium payable is subject to GST, which is applied after the premium is calculated (see clause 8).

8 Premium payable

The premium payable by an employer is the sum of *WorkCover premium and the *buy-out premium, together with the GST payable in accordance with A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999 of the Commonwealth.

9 WorkCover premium

WorkCover premium

 - (a) the amount produced by deducting the deductible benefit from the *preliminary premium; and
 - (b) the *minimum premium.

Preliminary premium

(2) The preliminary premium is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each *period of coverage at each workplace of that employer during the current premium period:

R_{cov}⁰ x premium rate

where:

premium rate, in relation to a *period of coverage at a workplace, is the rate calculated in accordance with subclause (3); and

 R_{cov}^{θ} is the remuneration for the period of coverage at a workplace.

Premium rate

The premium rate for a *period of coverage at a workplace is calculated in accordance with this subclause.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

PART 2 - continued

10 Buy-out premium

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Authority's obligation to indemnify an employer in respect of the employer's liability to pay compensation and damages in accordance with the Act is subject to an excess in respect of each claim.

An employer may elect to eliminate the excess payable, in which case an additional amount is added to the employer's WorkCover premium (referred to as the buy-out premium). That election is generally made on registration.

Employers may change their election from time to time. However, for a change to have effect in the current premium period an employer must notify the Authority in writing by 1 August 2023.

Calculating the buy-out premium

- (1) The buy-out premium for an employer is zero unless the employer has made a buy-out election.
- (2) If the employer has made a buy-out election then the buy-out premium is calculated in accordance with the following formula:
 - *WorkCover premium x buy-out value

where:

buy-out value is the amount determined by the *Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette from time to time.

Electing to eliminate excess on registration

- (3) An employer makes an election in accordance with this subclause if:
 - (a) the employer is an employer to which section 434(3) of the Act applies; and
 - (b) the employer informs the Authority of its buy-out election at the time that it applies for registration under section 434(3) of the Act in the form and manner prescribed by the Authority; and
 - (c) the application for registration is made within the time prescribed by section 434(3) of the Act.

Maintaining a buy-out election

- (4) An employer makes an election in accordance with this subclause if:
 - (a) prior to the current premium period the employer made an election under section 72(6) of the Act to eliminate the excess under section 72(1) of the Act; and
 - (b) the employer has not revoked its election by notice in writing to the Authority on or before 1 August 2023.

Making a new buy-out election

- (5) An employer makes an election in accordance with this subclause if:
 - (a) prior to the current premium period the employer had not made an election under section 72(6) of the Act to eliminate the excess under section 72(1) of the Act; and
 - (b) the employer informs the Authority of its election by notice in writing to the Authority on or before 1 August 2023.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

(6) For the avoidance of doubt, an election under section 72(6) of the Act made other than in accordance with subclause (3), (4) or (5) has no effect for the purposes of subclause (2).

Definitions

(7) In this clause:

buy-out election means an election under section 72(6) of the Act to eliminate the excess under section 72(1) of the Act made in accordance with subclause (3), (4) or (5); and notice in writing includes notice to the Authority provided by using a form provided on the website maintained by the Authority.

11 Deductible benefit

An employer's deductible benefit shall be calculated in accordance with the following formula:

*preliminary premium x deductible amount x N

 $_{\text{EMP}}R_{0}$ 366

where:

deductible amount is the amount determined by the *Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette from time to time;

 $_{EMP}R_{a}$ is the remuneration for the employer for the current premium period; and

N is the total number of days in the current premium period on which an employer was registered and/or is likely to be required to be registered under Part 10 of the Act.

12 Employer performance rating

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The employer performance rating is a measure of the employer's occupational health and safety performance by reference to claims made against the employer. The calculation takes into account the employer's claims history relative to the employer's industry (referred to as the performance index) and its size (referred to as the size adjustment factor).

The performance index is a comparison of the actual performance of a given employer (referred to as the employer's claims cost rate) with the average performance of the industries in which that employer has been operating during the relevant period (referred to as the employer's industry average claims cost rate).

The size adjustment factor regulates the impact that an employer's performance has on its premium so that the claims history (good or bad) of a larger employer will have more of an impact on its premium than the claims history (good or bad) of a smaller employer.

An employer performance rating of one is considered average. Anything greater than one represents a worse than average performance and anything less than one represents a performance that is better than average.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

Employer performance rating calculation

(1) Unless subclause (4) applies, the employer performance rating for an employer is:

1 + size adjustment factor x (performance index - 1) x (T ÷ 1096)

where:

T is the number of days during the *claims reporting period on which:

(a) a *WorkCover insurance policy was *in force in respect of the employer, a *predecessor employer or a *related employer; or

P1

(b) the employer, a predecessor employer or a related employer was required to be registered under Part 10 of the Act.

Size adjustment factor

(2) An employer's size adjustment factor is:

$$X^T \div (X^T + \text{sizing value})$$

where:

sizing value is the value determined by the *Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette from time to time; and

 X^T is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the formula IR x R_{COV} to each experience period workplace of the employer for each relevant *period of coverage.

Performance index

(3) An employer's performance index is:

where:

AP is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the formula ICCR x R_{COV} to each experience period workplace of the employer for each relevant *period of coverage;

AR is the sum of R_{COV} for each experience period workplace of the employer for each relevant *period of coverage;

C is the sum of the *total cost of claims for the *claims reporting period in respect of:

- (a) each workplace which is an experience period workplace in relation to the employer; and
- (b) each workplace (other than an experience period workplace or an *unrelated predecessor workplace) which was a workplace of the employer or any *related employer prior to 1 July 2019;

ECCR is the employer's claims cost rate which is:

$$(C - V) \div AR$$

IACCR is the employer's industry average claims cost rate, which is:

$$AP \div AR$$

V, in relation to the employer, is the old claim recoveries calculated in accordance with subclause 36(2).

PART 2 - continued

Employer performance rating is 1 for certain employers

- (4) If:
 - (a) an employer is a small employer;
 - (b) an employer is a new employer; or
 - (c) it is not otherwise possible to calculate an employer performance rating for an employer,

- (ii) was a workplace of the employer during the preceding premium period; R_{COV} is the remuneration for the *period of coverage at the workplace; relevant period of coverage means:

- (a) in relation to a workplace referred to in paragraph (a) of the definition of experience period workplace, each *period of coverage at that workplace during the period 1 July 2019 to 30 June 2022 where during that period of coverage the workplace was a workplace of the employer or any *related employer; and
- (b) in relation to a workplace referred to in paragraph (b) of the definition of experience period workplace, all periods of coverage at that workplace during the period 1 July 2019 to 30 June 2022 and preceding the date on which that workplace became a *predecessor workplace to a workplace referred to in paragraph (a) and (b) of the definition of experience period workplace;

13 Weighted industry rate

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The Premiums Order calculates a single premium rate for an employer's workplaces where the industry classification has not changed from the preceding premium period (i.e. current risk workplaces). However, some employers have current risk workplaces with different industry classifications. The weighted industry rate is calculated to ensure that the single premium rate takes into account the different industries in which the employer operates.

The weighted industry rate is calculated by reference to the industry rate and remuneration for each current risk workplace. However, if the same industry classification applies to each of the employer's current risk workplaces then the weighted industry rate will be equal to the applicable industry rate.

General rule

(1) Unless subclause (2) applies, an employer's weighted industry rate is:

$$X^1 \div A$$

where:

A is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each relevant workplace in respect of the *last period of coverage at that workplace:

$$(R_{COV}^{-1} \times 365) \div N_{COV}$$

 X^{l} is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each relevant workplace in respect of the *last period of coverage at that workplace:

IR x
$$(R_{COV}^{-1} \times 365) \div N_{COV}$$

Exception for certain small employers

- (2) If:
 - (a) an employer is a small employer;
 - (b) subclause 13(2) of the *2022/2023 Premiums Order applied in relation to the calculation of the employer's premium in the *preceding premium period;
 - (c) C for the employer has a value of zero; and
 - (d) the employer's comparative rate is less than $X^1 \div A$,

then this subclause applies and the employer's weighted industry rate is the employer's *comparative rate.

Definitions

(3) In this clause:

C has the meaning given by subclause 12(3);

IR is the *industry rate for that workplace for that *period of coverage;

 N_{cov} is the number of days in the *last period of coverage at the workplace;

 R_{COV}^{1} is the remuneration for the *last period of coverage at the workplace; relevant workplace means a workplace which:

(a) was a workplace of an employer during the *preceding premium period;and

PART 2 - continued

- (ii) a current risk workplace of any *related employer; and small employer has the meaning given by subclause 12(5).

14 Capping factor

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The capping factor limits increases in an employer's premium rate for certain workplaces so that an employer's premium rate for those workplaces will not rise by more than the capping value from one year to the next. This protects employers from receiving dramatic increases in the amount they have to pay from one year to the next due to an increase in the premium rate.

Increases in an employer's premium rate are capped by a percentage of the premium rate, expressed in the form of a number in the capping value. For example, a capping value of 1.3 would cap increases in the premium rate at 30%. The Authority itself determines the capping value by reference to the nature of the employer.

The capping factor is calculated by comparing the employer's premium rate for the previous year (referred to as the comparative rate: see clause 15) to the employer's uncapped premium rate for the current premium period (referred to as the potential employer rate) to ascertain whether any increase in the premium rate from the previous year would be greater than the capping value. If it would, then capping will generally be applied. However, the capping factor cannot be less than the minimum capping factor. The minimum capping factor ensures a transition to the employer's uncapped premium rate.

The capping factor applies to workplaces where the industry classification has not changed from the preceding premium period (i.e. current risk workplaces) and to imputed workplaces. The capping factor does not apply in relation to workplaces that were not operating in the preceding premium period (i.e. new risk workplaces).

If an employer is paying less than its full premium because of the capping factor, then the premium rate will increase each year until the employer is paying the uncapped premium rate.

- (1) The capping factor (CF) for an employer is the lesser of:
 - (a) 1; and
 - (b) (*comparative rate x capping value) ÷ (potential employer rate),

but if CF is less than the minimum capping factor then CF is the minimum capping factor.

Definitions

(2) In this clause

cappable period of coverage, in relation to an employer, means a *period of coverage in the current premium period which is:

- (a) a *current risk period of coverage at a *current workplace of the employer; or
- (b) a period of coverage at an *imputed workplace of the employer;

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

capping value, in relation to an employer, is the value determined by the *Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette from time to time that is applicable to the employer;

minimum capping factor, in relation to an employer, is the value determined by the *Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette from time to time that is applicable to the employer;

potential cappable premium is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each cappable period of coverage at a workplace of the employer during the current premium period, where (for the purposes of this definition only) CF is 1:

R_{COV} x premium rate;

potential employer rate is:

potential cappable premium $\div R_{pcp}$;

premium rate, in relation to a *period of coverage at a workplace, is the rate calculated in accordance with subclause 9(3);

 R_{cov} is the remuneration for the *period of coverage at the workplace; and

 R_{PCP} is the remuneration for all *periods of coverage used in the calculation of the potential cappable premium.

15 Comparative rate

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The comparative rate is used in the calculation of the capping factor (see clause 14). The comparative rate is a measure of the employer's premium rate for the previous year.

For an employer that continues to operate at the same workplaces and in the same industry from one year to the next, the comparative rate will be equal to that employer's "current risk premium rate" from the previous year.

If an employer has imputed workplaces, predecessor workplaces or related employer workplaces, the premiums for those workplaces are also taken into account in the calculation of the comparative rate.

Comparative rate calculation

(1) The comparative rate for an employer is:

$$CP_{SLIM} \div R_{SLIM}$$

where:

 CP_{SUM} is the sum of the calculated premium calculated in accordance with subclause (2) for all periods of comparative coverage; and

 R_{SUM} is the sum of all the remuneration for all periods of comparative coverage.

Calculated premium

(2) Calculated premium is calculated in accordance with this subclause.

Comparative current risk period of coverage

(a) If a period of comparative coverage was a *current risk period of coverage under the *2022/2023 Premiums Order, the calculated premium for the period of comparative coverage is:

where:

IMCF is the industry mix and capping factor for the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during the *period of coverage, calculated in accordance with the following formula:

$$(AP^{R1} \times_{CR} R^1) \div U$$

where:

U is the sum of the amounts produced by applying the following formula to each *period of coverage used in the calculation of $_{CR}R^1$:

$$R_{COV}^{-1} \times EPR^1 \times IR_1$$

but IMCF is 1 if:

- (i) the *WorkCover premium was the *minimum premium under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order for the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during the period of comparative coverage; or
- (ii) the value of IMCF is zero or less than zero or cannot be calculated.

Comparative new risk period of coverage

(b) If a period of comparative coverage was a *new risk period of coverage under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order and was not a period of coverage at an *imputed workplace, the calculated premium for the period of comparative coverage is:

$$R_{COV}^{-1} \times EPR^1 \times IR_1$$

Comparative coverage at an imputed workplace

(c) If a period of comparative coverage was a period of coverage at an imputed workplace, the calculated premium for the period of comparative coverage is:

Definitions

APRI is the applicable premium rate in relation to the workplace for the *period of coverage, calculated in accordance with paragraph 9(3)(a) of the *2022/2023 Premiums Order and by reference to the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during that period of coverage;

PART 2 - continued

- *CF*¹ is the capping factor (CF) for the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during that *period of coverage, calculated in accordance with subclause 14(1) of the *2022/2023 Premiums Order, but CF¹ is 1 if:
 - (a) the *WorkCover premium was the *minimum premium under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order for the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during the period of comparative coverage; or
 - (b) the value of CF¹ is zero or cannot be calculated;

 - (a) the *WorkCover premium was the *minimum premium under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order for the person that was the employer in relation to the workplace during the period of comparative coverage; or
 - (b) the value of EPR¹ is zero or less than zero or cannot be calculated;
- *IR*₁ is the industry rate for the workplace for the *last period of coverage, determined in accordance with clause 29 of the *2022/2023 Premiums Order;

 R_{COV}^{I} is the remuneration for the *last period of coverage at the workplace.

16 Calculating premium before the publication date

- (1) If the *Authority itself calculates the *premium payable by an employer before the publication date, then for the purpose of that calculation any reference to a relevant value or rate in this Order shall be construed as a reference to a value or rate as determined by the Authority itself.
- (2) If the *Authority itself has calculated the *premium payable by an employer before the publication date, then the Authority must recalculate the premium payable by that employer after the publication date.

Definitions

(3) In this clause:

publication date means the earliest date at which every relevant value or rate for the current premium period has been published in the Government Gazette; and relevant value or rate means:

- (a) the buy-out value within the meaning of subclause 10(2);

PART 3 - EMPLOYERS

17 Application of grouping provisions

- (1) The grouping provisions in Part 10 of the Act shall not apply for any of the purposes of this Order, other than clauses 19, 20 and 24(8)(e), unless the Authority makes a determination under subclause (2).
- (2) The *Authority itself may determine that an employer, which is a member of a *group, is a group employer for the purposes of this Order.

18 Predecessor employer of a labour hire employer

- (1) The *Authority itself may determine that an employer (in this clause called employer A) that:
 - (a) had *in force a *WorkCover insurance policy;
 - (b) was registered under Part 10 of the Act; or
 - (c) was required to be registered but was not registered under Part 10 of the Act, is a predecessor employer of another employer (in this clause called employer B) that provides or provided *labour hire in the current premium period.

- (2) In making a determination under subclause (1) the Authority may consider any relevant matter, including:
 - (a) whether employer A has transferred to employer B any asset of employer A's business;
 - (b) whether the clients of employer B are or were substantially the same as the clients of employer A;
 - (c) whether the staff of employer B are or were substantially the same as the staff of employer A;

 - (e) whether there is a *relationship of control between employer A and employer B, within the meaning of subclause 24(8).
- (3) For the avoidance of doubt, the *Authority itself may make a determination under subclause (1) regardless of whether employer A is, or is required to be, registered under Part 10 of the Act.

PART 4 – WORKPLACES

19 Workplace

General rule

- (1) Workplace, in relation to an employer, means:
 - (a) an area, or two or more *contiguous areas, of land in Victoria occupied by the employer where *workers employed by the employer work, or through which such workers pass in the course of their employment, whether or not workers employed by another employer also work in or pass through that area or those areas in the course of their employment (actual workplace); and
 - (b) an area, or two or more contiguous areas, of land in Victoria occupied by a *labour hire client of the employer where workers employed by the employer work, or through which such workers pass in the course of their employment, whether or not workers employed by another employer also work in or pass through that area or those areas in the course of their employment (imputed workplace), unless the Authority makes a determination under subclause (2).

Exception for employers that provide ancillary and insignificant labour hire

- (2) The Authority may make a determination in relation to an employer that the provision of *labour hire by the employer is:
 - (a) merely ancillary to the business of the employer; and
 - (b) an insignificant part of the labour hire industry taken as a whole.

Special rules if workers working at a place that is not a workplace of the employer

- (3) If workers employed by the employer are working in a place that is not a workplace of that employer within the meaning of subclause (1), those workers shall be deemed to be working at the workplace of the employer from which that work is managed or controlled or, if there is no such workplace, the place determined by the Authority to be the workplace of the employer in respect of that work. However, this subclause does not apply if subclause (5) applies.
- (4) For the avoidance of doubt, the Authority may under subclause (3) determine that an area, or two or more *contiguous areas, of land outside Victoria is a workplace of an employer.
- (5) If workers employed by the employer which is a member of a *group are not working at a workplace of that employer but are working at a workplace, or place of business, of another member of the group then this subclause applies and the second-mentioned workplace (or place of business, as the case may be) shall be deemed to be the workplace of the employer for the purposes of this Order.

Workplace includes predecessor workplaces

(6) Any reference to a workplace includes any *predecessor workplace which corresponds to the workplace.

20 Workplaces of group employers

When the Authority may treat group workplaces as a single workplace

- (1) If two or more persons (the relevant persons) are:
 - (a) members of a *group;
 - (b) carrying out their respective operations at two or more group workplaces (the constituent workplaces) which are *contiguous with each other or occupy (in whole or in part) the same area of land; and

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

- (c) the Authority is satisfied of one or more of the matters set out in subclause (3), then the Authority may determine that some or all of the constituent workplaces are to be treated as a single workplace (the grouped workplace) for the purpose of determining the *reademinent activity of each constituent workplace including (for the purpose of
- be treated as a single workplace (the grouped workplace) for the purpose of determining the *predominant activity of each constituent workplace including (for the purpose of removing any doubt) for the purpose of determining the predominant activity under clause 27.
- (2) For the purposes of subclause (1), group workplace means any place of business (whether or not a workplace of an employer) at which any of the relevant persons (whether or not an employer) carries out its operations, and such place shall be treated as a workplace of that person.

Conditions for treating group workplaces as a single workplace

- (3) The Authority may only make a determination under subclause (1) if it is satisfied that the operations carried on at the *constituent workplaces are:
 - (a) not carried on independently of each other;
 - (b) connected with each other; and/or
 - (c) carried on with an intention either directly or indirectly of minimising the amount of *premium payable by one or other of the relevant persons under this Order.

Effect of treating group workplaces as a single workplace

(4) If the Authority makes a determination under subclause (1), then this Order shall apply as if the *predominant activity and the applicable *industry rate for each *constituent workplace were the same as for the *grouped workplace.

21 Treating one workplace as two or more separate workplaces

The Authority may determine one workplace to be two or more separate workplaces

(1) If, at a workplace of an employer that comprises two or more areas of land that are *contiguous (the contiguous areas), the *predominant activity carried on at each of those areas is different, the Authority may determine that each of those areas is a separate workplace of that employer for the purposes of this Order.

When the Authority may not exercise its power

- (2) The Authority may not exercise its power under subclause (1) if any of subclauses (3), (4) or (5) applies. However, these exceptions do not apply if subclause (6) applies.
- (3) This subclause applies in relation to an area if the *predominant activity carried on at the area:
 - (a) is wholly or mainly dependent on;
 - (b) occurs wholly or mainly as a consequence of; or
 - (c) is wholly or mainly ancillary to,

the predominant activity carried on at one or more of the other contiguous areas.

(4) This subclause applies in relation to an area if the goods and/or services produced or provided by the employer from operations carried on in the area are wholly or mainly produced or provided (as the case may be) for the use of or purposes of, or to support the operations carried on in, one or more of the other contiguous areas.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

- (5) This subclause applies in relation to an area if:
 - (a) the *predominant activity carried on at the area comes within one or more of the following categories of services:
 - (i) clerical services;
 - (ii) management services;
 - (iii) administrative services;
 - (iv) sales and marketing services;
 - (v) buying services; and/or
 - (vi) warehousing services associated with manufacturing, wholesaling or retailing;and
 - (b) that activity is carried on wholly or mainly in connection with the operations carried on in one or more of the other contiguous areas.

Special rule for corporate head office management services

- (6) This subclause applies in relation to an area if:
 - (a) the *predominant activity for the relevant area directly corresponds to *WorkCover industry classification M69610 Corporate Head Office Management Services; and
 - (b) at least one of the workplaces of the employer in connection with which the relevant area is engaged in corporate head office management services is not *contiguous with any of the contiguous areas.
- (7) For the purposes of subclause (6)(a), a *predominant activity does not directly correspond to *WorkCover industry M69610 Corporate Head Office Management Services if that is the WorkCover industry classification to which such predominant activity most closely corresponds.
- (8) For the purposes of subclause (6)(b), the expression workplaces of the employer includes an area, or two or more contiguous areas, of land outside Victoria but within Australia, not otherwise being a workplace for the purposes of this Order, which would be a workplace if subclause 19(1) applied.

23 Labour hire homogenous workplaces

- (1) Subject to subclause (2), two or more *imputed workplaces of an employer may be treated for the purposes of this Order as a single workplace if the *industry classification of each of the imputed workplaces is or is expected to be the same.
- (2) The Authority may determine that one or more *imputed workplaces that have been treated as a single workplace pursuant to subclause (1) shall not be treated as a single workplace for the purposes of this Order.

24 Predecessor workplace

EXPLANATORY NOTE

In certain circumstances, the claims history (including both claims costs and remuneration) of one workplace (referred to as the predecessor workplace) may be used in the calculation of premium for a different workplace. This is referred to as one workplace "inheriting" the claims history of another workplace. Inheritance of claims history may occur whether the predecessor workplace is that of the employer or of a different employer. Inheritance of claims history generally occurs where the predominant activity carried on at the predecessor workplace is now carried on in the new workplace and where there is a relationship of control between the two employers.

General rule

- (1) Unless subclause (5) applies, a workplace (in this clause called workplace A) is a predecessor workplace of another workplace (in this clause called workplace B) if:
 - (a) the relevant activity is being carried on, in substance, in workplace B; and
 - (b) the relevant activity is being carried on, in substance, in workplace B in succession to the carrying on of that activity in workplace A.
- (2) A workplace may be a predecessor workplace under subclause (1) even if:
 - (a) employer B is different from employer A;
 - (b) the location of workplace B is different from the location of workplace A;
 - (c) workplace A continues to be a workplace of employer A;
 - (d) the relevant activity is still being carried on in workplace A; or
 - (e) the relevant activity is not the *predominant activity in workplace B.

Application of general rule in relation to grouped workplaces

- (3) For the purposes of subclause (1), if the Authority has made a grouped workplace determination in relation to workplace A, then the *predominant activity of workplace A shall be read as a reference to the predominant activity of the workplace ascertained in accordance with clause 27 as if the determination had not been made.
- (4) For the purposes of subclause (1), if:
 - (a) the Authority has made a grouped workplace determination in relation to workplace B: and
 - (b) the *predominant activity of workplace B, as a result of the determination, is the same as the predominant activity in workplace A,

then a reference to the activity that is being carried on, in substance, at workplace B shall be read as a reference to the predominant activity in workplace B.

Exception to general rule

- (5) If:
 - (a) employer B is a different *entity from employer A; and
 - (b) the Authority makes a determination under subclause (6), then subclause (1) does not apply, unless both employer A and employer B are public authorities.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

When the Authority may make a determination

- (6) The Authority may make a determination that workplace A is not a predecessor workplace of workplace B if the Authority is satisfied that:
 - (a) no *relationship of control exists between employer A and employer B or has existed since the commencement of the relevant test period or the combined test period, as the case may be; or

(b) no relationship of control between employer A and employer B existed at any time during the relevant test period or the combined test period, as the case may be.

When the Authority may revoke a determination

(7) The Authority may revoke a determination under subclause (6) if the Authority is satisfied that a *relationship of control between employer A and employer B exists or has existed at any time during the relevant test period or the combined test period, as the case may be.

When a relationship of control is taken to exist

- (8) For the purposes of this clause, a relationship of control shall be taken to exist or to have existed (as the case may be) between employer B and employer A if:
 - (a) at any time in the relevant test period employer A has or had a *controlling interest in employer B;
 - (b) any *entity which at any time in the relevant test period has or had a controlling interest in employer A also has or had at any time in the relevant test period (not necessarily being the same time) a controlling interest in employer B;
 - (c) any entities acting together which at any time in the relevant test period have or had a controlling interest in employer A also have or had at any time in the relevant test period (not necessarily being the same time) a controlling interest in employer B;
 - (d) at any time in the relevant test period employer B has or had a controlling interest in employer A; or
 - (e) at any time during the combined test period, employer A and employer B are or were a *group or part of a group.

When the Authority may disregard a relationship of control

- (9) For the purposes of making a determination under subclause (6) or revoking such a determination under subclause (7), the *Authority itself may disregard a *relationship of control which would otherwise be taken to exist or to have existed (as the case may be) between employer B and employer A by reason that an *entity (in this subclause called the relevant entity), whether employer A or employer B or another entity, has or had a *controlling interest in an employer of a kind specified in subclause (8), if the Authority itself is satisfied that it would be reasonable to do so having regard to:
 - (a) the nature or degree of the relevant entity's independence, if any, from employer A or employer B during the relevant test period;
 - (b) the nature and degree of the relevant entity's ownership interest (whether directly or indirectly) in employer A or employer B during the relevant test period;
 - (c) the nature and degree of any financial interest that the relevant entity has or had (whether directly or indirectly) in or in relation to employer A or employer B during the relevant test period;
 - (d) whether any other entity has or had a controlling interest in employer A or employer B during the relevant test period;

PART 4 - continued

- (e) the nature of any connection (whether of a business, family or other nature) between the relevant entity and any other entity referred to in paragraph (d); and
- (f) any other matters that the Authority considers relevant.

Obtaining information

- (10) In considering whether to make a determination under subclause (6) or revoke such a determination under subclause (7) the Authority may obtain and consider any relevant information and may request information from employer A or employer B and the Authority need not make or revoke a determination if:
 - (a) employer A or employer B fails or refuses to provide information to the Authority;
 - (b) the Authority considers that the information provided to it by employer A or employer B in relation to the existence of a *relationship of control is incorrect; or
 - (c) the Authority considers that the information provided to it by employer A or employer B is insufficient to enable it to determine that no relationship of control exists between employer A and employer B.

Definitions

(11) In this clause:

combined test period means the period beginning one year prior to the commencement of the relevant period and ending one year after the end of the relevant period;

employer A means the *entity that is or was the employer in relation to workplace A at any time during the relevant test period or the combined test period;

grouped workplace determination means a determination under:

- (a) subclause 20(1) of this Order;
- (b) subclause 20(1) of any Premiums Order in operation from 1 July 2015; or

- (b) in relation to a controlling interest in employer A: the period beginning one year prior to the commencement of the relevant period and ending at the end of the relevant period.

25 Controlling interest

(1) For the purpose of subclauses 24(8) and (9), an *entity has, or entities acting together have, a controlling interest if any one or more of the following applies:

50% stake test – company

- (a) in the case of a company, the entity, or the entity and its *associates between them, or the entities acting together:
 - (i) are able to exercise, or control the exercise of or substantially influence the exercise of, 50% or more of the voting power in the company (either directly, or indirectly through one or more interposed entities);
 - (ii) have the right to receive for their own benefit (either directly, or indirectly through one or more interposed entities) 50% or more of any dividends that the company may pay; or

PART 5 - CLASSIFICATIONS AND RATES

27 Predominant activity

EXPLANATORY NOTE

This clause is directed to ascertaining the principal activity at a workplace (referred to as the predominant activity), using the value added approach. The value added approach identifies and characterises the predominant activity of a workplace based on an economic measure of its production functions. A production function is the transformation of intermediate inputs, through the application of labour and capital, to produce outputs.

The value added approach is based on the approach to determining the principal activity of a producing unit adopted by the Australian Bureau of Statistics in Australian System of National Accounts: Concepts, Sources and Methods (2013). The ABS defines the "principal activity of a producing unit" as the "activity with value added that exceeds the value added of any other activity carried out by the same unit". Value added is the difference between output and intermediate consumption for each producing unit and thereby measures the value created by production. Value added represents the contribution of labour and capital to the production process. The method of determining value added will vary as between market and non-market outputs.

- (1) (a) Predominant activity, in relation to a *period of coverage at an *actual workplace of an employer, means the activity of the employer which during that period contributes, or is likely to contribute, more than any other activity of the employer to the value of the goods and/or services produced or provided by the operations carried on in that workplace.
 - (b) Predominant activity, in relation to a period of coverage at an *imputed workplace of an employer means the activity of the *labour hire client which during that period contributes, or is likely to contribute, more than any other activity of the client to the value of goods and/or services produced or provided by operations carried on in that workplace.
- (2) In determining the predominant activity in relation to a workplace, regard may be had to, but must not be limited by, measures of activity during the preceding period of 12 months or less consisting of data taken from:
 - (a) a financial statement prepared and signed by a registered company auditor, accountant or tax agent; or
 - (b) if an employer did not engage a registered company auditor, accountant or tax agent during the period to which the information refers, a return by the employer.

28 Industry classification

- (1) The industry classification of a workplace is the *WorkCover industry classification in Schedule 1 to which the *predominant activity at that workplace corresponds or most closely corresponds.
- (2) For the purposes of determining the industry classification in accordance with subclause (1):
 - (a) regard must be had to the introduction to, and all relevant elements of, Schedule 1;
 - (b) consideration must be given to the industrial characteristics of the *predominant activity without regard to the risk of injury associated with the predominant activity or with any of the occupations of or functions performed by workers engaged in operations at that workplace; and

(c) the predominant activity at a workplace does not correspond or most closely correspond to a *WorkCover industry classification if workplaces predominantly engaged in that activity are expressly excluded from that classification in any of the elements of Schedule 1.

29 Industry rate / industry claims cost rate

Industry rate and industry claims cost rate determined by the Authority

(1) The industry rate and the industry claims cost rate for the current premium period for each *industry classification are the rates determined by the *Authority itself and notified in the Government Gazette from time to time.

Industry rate and industry claims cost rate for a workplace

(2) Unless subclause (3), (4) and/or (5) apply, the industry rate or the industry claims cost rate (as the case may be) for a workplace for a *period of coverage is the rate for the current premium period that corresponds to the *industry classification of that workplace for that period of coverage.

Exception to subclause (2) if a different industry classification applies

- (3) If:
 - (a) the 2022/2023 industry classification for a workplace of an employer (the relevant workplace) is different from the *industry classification for the relevant workplace under this Premiums Order;
 - (b) the Authority is satisfied that the *predominant activity carried on at the relevant workplace during the *last period of coverage was the same as the predominant activity carried on at the relevant workplace on 1 July 2023; and
 - (c) application of this subclause would result in a lower employer performance rating for that employer than the employer performance rating calculated in accordance with subclause (2), then this subclause applies and the industry rate or the industry claims cost rate (as the case may be) for the relevant workplace for a relevant period of coverage is the rate for the current premium period for the industry classification that corresponds to the 2022/2023 industry classification.

Exception to subclause (2) if subclause 29(3) previously applied to a workplace

(4) If, since 1 July 2015, subclause 29(3) was applied in relation to the workplace then this subclause applies and the industry rate or the industry claims cost rate (as the case may be) for a workplace for a period of coverage is the rate for the current premium period for the industry classification that most closely corresponds to the industry classification that was used to calculate the employer's WorkCover premium for the premium period in which subclause 29(3) under the relevant Premiums Order was applied.

Exception to subclause (2) if employer fails to provide sufficient information

(5) If, in the opinion of the Authority, an employer has failed to provide sufficient information to enable the Authority to determine the industry classification and/or the remuneration for a period of coverage at a workplace, the industry rate shall be deemed to be the default industry rate and the industry claims cost rate shall be deemed to be the default industry claims cost rate.

PART 5 - continued

Definitions

- (6) In this clause:
 - 2022/2023 industry classification means the industry classification for a workplace of an employer for the *last period of coverage that was used in the calculation of the employer's WorkCover premium under the *2022/2023 Premiums Order;
 - default industry rate is the rate for the current premium period determined by the*Authority itself to be the default industry rate, and notified in the GovernmentGazette from time to time:

- relevant Premiums Order, in relation to a *period of coverage, means the WorkCover Insurance Premiums Order that applied in the period of coverage.

30 Coverage classification

- (1) Each *period of coverage at a workplace in the current premium period is to be classified in accordance with this clause as either:
 - (a) a new risk period of coverage; or
 - (b) a current risk period of coverage.

New risk period of coverage

(2) Unless subclause (3A), (3B), (3C), (3D), (4), (5) or (6) applies, the relevant period is to be classified as a new risk period of coverage.

Current risk period of coverage

- (3A) If:
 - (a) the industry classification for the workplace under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order was K63220 General Insurance; and
 - (b) the industry classification of the workplace on 1 July 2023 is either:
 - (i) K63227 General Insurance, Public Sector; or
 - (ii) K63228 General Insurance, Non-Public Sector,

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

PART 5 - continued

(3B) If:

Victoria Government Gazette

- (a) the industry classification for the workplace under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order was P80230 Combined Primary and Secondary Education; and then, unless the Authority is satisfied that the predominant activity has changed, this subclause applies and the relevant period is to be classified as a current risk period of coverage.

(3C) If:

- the industry classification for the workplace under the 2022/2023 Premiums Order was Q85910 Ambulance Services; and
- (b) the industry classification of the workplace on 1 July 2023 is either:
 - (i) Q85917 Ambulance Services, Public Sector; or
 - (ii) Q85918 Ambulance Services, Non-Public Sector,

then, unless the Authority is satisfied that the predominant activity has changed, this subclause applies and the relevant period is to be classified as a current risk period of coverage.

- (b) the industry classification of the workplace on 1 July 2023 is either:
 - (i) Q87907 Other Social Assistance Services, Public Sector; or
 - (ii) Q87908 Other Social Assistance Services, Non-Public Sector,

then, unless the Authority is satisfied that the predominant activity has changed, this subclause applies and the relevant period is to be classified as a current risk period of coverage.

- (3) For the avoidance of doubt, the relevant period for an *imputed workplace is to be classified as a new risk period of coverage.
- (4) If:
 - (a) during the *last period of coverage the workplace was an *actual workplace;
 - (b) the remuneration paid or payable to workers during the last period of coverage at the workplace was greater than zero; and
 - (c) the *industry classification of the workplace is the same as it was in the *last period of coverage, then this subclause applies and the relevant period is to be classified as a current risk period of coverage.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

PART 5 - continued

- (5) If:
 - the activities carried on or to be carried on at the workplace during the relevant period were carried on at two or more workplaces in the last period of coverage; and
 - (b) the Authority is satisfied that the activities carried on during that last period of coverage (either collectively or individually) are substantially the same as those carried on, or to be carried on, during the relevant period, then the Authority may determine that this subclause applies and the relevant period is to be classified as a current risk period of coverage.

- (6) If:
 - (a) the workplace is a *constituent workplace during the relevant *period of coverage and was not a constituent workplace during the last period of coverage; and
 - (b) the Authority is satisfied that the activities carried on or to be carried on by the employer at the workplace during the relevant period of coverage are substantially the same as those carried on at that workplace during the last period of coverage, then the Authority may determine that this subclause applies and the relevant period is to be classified as a current risk period of coverage.

Definition

(7) In this clause, relevant period means the *period of coverage to be classified.

^{*}this term is defined in subclause 5(2)

PART 6 - REMUNERATION

31 Remuneration

Remuneration for premium periods

The remuneration for a *period of coverage at a workplace of an employer during a premium period is the sum of the *rateable remuneration paid or payable to *workers employed by the employer in respect of operations carried out at that workplace during that period.

Remuneration if worker working at two or more workplaces and division of remuneration not identified

- If a worker is engaged in operations at two or more workplaces of an employer and the remuneration paid or payable to the worker in respect of operations in each workplace is not identified, the proportion of the remuneration attributable to each workplace is the same proportion as the number of hours during which the worker is engaged in operations in that workplace bears to the total number of hours during which the worker is or was engaged in operations in those workplaces.
- If an employer has two or more workplaces, and the proportion of remuneration attributable to each workplace is not reasonably ascertainable under subclause (2), the Authority may deem the proportion of remuneration attributable to each workplace and the Authority may, subject to such terms and conditions as it determines, require the employer to pay premium on the basis of the deemed proportions.

32 Use of estimates by the Authority

- In calculating the *premium payable by an employer the Authority must use:
 - the certified remuneration; or
 - the Authority's estimate of certified remuneration

but if the certified remuneration or the Authority's estimate of the certified remuneration is not available at the time of the calculation of the premium the Authority may use:

- (c) the employer's estimate of remuneration; or
- (d) the Authority's estimate of remuneration.

Definitions

(2) In this clause:

- Authority's estimate of certified remuneration means the *rateable remuneration estimated by the Authority pursuant to section 442(3) of the Act or assessed by the Authority pursuant to section 23(4) of the *WorkCover Insurance Act, as the case may be;
- Authority's estimate of remuneration means an estimate of *rateable remuneration by the Authority under section 440 of the Act or an estimate or assessment of rateable remuneration by the Authority under section 18 or 24 of the *WorkCover Insurance Act, as the case may be;

PART 7 – COST OF CLAIMS AND RECOVERIES

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Claim costs are used in the calculation of the employer performance rating (see clause 12). They provide a measure of the employer's occupational health and safety performance by reference to the cost of the claims made against the employer.

The total cost of claims, in relation to a workplace, is the total of the costs of all individual claims, calculated in accordance with this Part, received by the Authority during the claims reporting period (see subclauses 33(1) and (2)). The cost of an individual claim cannot be less than zero.

The general rules to calculate the cost of an individual claim are set out in subclauses 33(3) and (4).

The cost of claims received by the Authority between 1 January 2022 and 31 December 2022 is calculated in accordance with subclause 33(3). That rule limits the cost of those claims to the payment of weekly compensation and the payment of compensation for the death of a worker.

The cost of other claims is calculated in accordance with subclause 33(4). The cost of those claims includes any payments of compensation, common law damages, settlement amounts, costs and expenses, and estimated future costs, in relation to the claim.

In some cases, the cost of an individual claim includes an estimate of the Authority's future liability in respect of the claim. Those estimates are made in accordance with subclause 33(5).

Certain claims are taken to have a cost of zero (see clause 34). For example, if no payments of compensation and no payment of damages have been made in respect of a claim, the claim is taken to have a cost of zero, even if the Authority has paid other costs or expenses in relation to the claim (such as legal costs or costs incurred in assessing the claim).

The date on which the costs of individual claims are calculated, and the information on which that calculation is based, is determined in accordance with clause 35.

The cost of an individual claim is generally reduced by the amount of any recoveries relating to the claim. A recovery is an amount of money received by or on behalf of the Authority in relation to a claim from a person other than the employer, such as a negligent third party (see subclause 36(1)).

For the purpose of calculating the employer performance rating (see clause 12), the Authority sets off certain recoveries in relation to old claims – claims received between 1 July 1993 and 31 December 2019 – against the total cost of claims. Those recoveries are called old claim recoveries. Old claim recoveries are calculated in accordance with subclause 36(2).

33 Cost of claims

Total cost of claims

(1) The total cost of claims, in relation to a workplace of an employer, is the total of the costs of all individual claims calculated in accordance with this Part received by the Authority during the *claims reporting period in respect of workers engaged in operations at that workplace, being *workers employed by the employer.

Cost of an individual claim

- (2) Unless clause 34 applies, the cost of an individual claim:
 - (a) received by the Authority during the period commencing on 1 January 2022 and ending on 31 December 2022 is calculated in accordance with subclause (3); and
 - (b) received by the Authority at any other time during the *claims reporting period is calculated in accordance with subclause (4), but if the cost of the claim is less than zero the cost of the claim is taken to be zero.

The general rules for calculating the cost of an individual claim

- (3) If this subclause applies, then the cost of the claim is the lesser of:
 - (a) $450,500; and
 - (b) the sum of:
 - the payments of compensation, if any, of weekly payments made pursuant to the Act or the *Accident Compensation Act by the Authority in respect of the claim; and
 - (ii) the payments of compensation, if any, made pursuant to Division 8 of Part 5 of the Act, other than payments pursuant to section 239 or 240 of the Act,

but the amount in (b):

- (iii) shall not include any remuneration paid or payable to relevant *authorised agents in accordance with their agency agreements;
- (iv) shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the sum of the amounts of all input tax credits and decreasing adjustments within the meaning of a New Tax System (Goods and Services) Act 1999 of the Commonwealth which have arisen in relation to the payments referred to in (b);
- (v) shall be reduced by any recoveries relating to the claim that relate to either the payment of compensation in the form of weekly payments made pursuant to the Act or Accident Compensation Act, or the payment of compensation made pursuant to Division 8 of Part 5 of the Act, other than payments pursuant to section 239 or 240 of the Act:
- (vi) if the employer elected under section 125A(6) of the Accident Compensation Act or section 72(6) of the Act to eliminate the excess under section 125A(3) of the Accident Compensation Act or under section 72(1) of the Act, as the case may be, does not include payments which would otherwise have been met by the employer under the excess;
- (vii) if the worker has been found guilty of a *relevant offence, shall not include any payments, costs or expenses to which the offence relates;
- (viii) shall not include any payments by way of interest required under sections 114D and 114E of the Accident Compensation Act or under section 179 or 193 of the Act in respect of a claim;
- (ix) shall not include any payment by the Authority to an employer for an amount that was recovered under section 138(6) of the Accident Compensation Act or section 369(7) of the Act that represents the employer's liability to pay compensation under section 125(1)(a) or 125A(3) of the Accident Compensation Act or section 72(1) of the Act, as the case may be; and

SCHEDULE 1 WORKCOVER INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION GENERAL INTRODUCTION

Explanatory Provisions

- 1. The General Introduction to Schedule 1 provides essential information, definitions and instructions that apply across more than one division or across all divisions of Schedule 1. These must be considered as part of the process under this schedule for allocating workplaces to specific *WorkCover industry classifications (abbreviated to "classes" within this schedule), based on the workplace's *predominant activity.
- 2. In addition, each division has an introduction that provides essential information about the nature of activities included within that division. All definitions and instructions in the introductions must be considered as part of the process for allocating workplaces to specific classes within Schedule 1, based on the *predominant activity of the workplace.
- 3. In accordance with clause 28, the *industry classification to which a workplace is classified for an employer is the *WorkCover industry classification in this schedule to which the *predominant activity at that workplace corresponds or most closely corresponds.
- 4. Classes, which are denoted by a single letter and a five digit numeric code, are organised within broad divisions (each identified by a single letter), subdivisions (each identified by a two digit code) and groups (each identified by a three digit code). The classes are based on the Australian and New Zealand Standard Industrial Classification 2006 (ANZSIC) developed by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) and in collaboration with Statistics New Zealand and accessible via the ABS website at www.abs.gov.au.
- 5. The classification of a workplace to a class is a two step process. The first step is to determine the *predominant activity at the workplace in accordance with clause 27. It is only after that step has been completed that Schedule 1 is considered, in step two. Step two is to identify the class in Schedule 1 to which the predominant activity corresponds or most closely corresponds as set out in subclause 28(1) and the flow chart in item 38.
- 6. For this purpose, regard must be had to all elements of this schedule, that is the General Introduction, headings, the general provisions, introductions to divisions, industry descriptions, exclusions/references and the listed activities.
- 7. In addition to general provisions relating to how to classify a workplace, this introduction also contains general provisions in relation to the following matters:
 - (a) Definitions and Abbreviations;
 - (b) Business Formation;
 - (c) Installation;
 - (d) Internal Management and Office Administration;
 - (e) Manufacturers' Sales;
 - (f) Rental, Hiring and Leasing of Machinery, Plant or Vehicles;
 - (g) Repair and Maintenance; and
 - (h) Public and Non-Public Sector Employers.

Operative Provisions

Operative provisions and Non-operative material

- 8. This schedule contains both operative provisions and non-operative material.
 - (a) The operative provisions are all provisions other than the non-operative material.

*this term is defined in clause 5(2)

Sch. 1

WorkCover Premiums Order (No. 31) 2023/2024

SCHEDULE 1 - continued

- (b) The only parts of this schedule that are non-operative material are:
 - (i) explanatory provisions (identified by the heading "Explanatory provisions");
 - (ii) provisions that identify a particular classification issue (identified by the heading "Issue"); and
 - (iii) examples (identified by the heading "Example"); and
- (c) The only purpose for which the non-operative material is to be used is as guidance, to assist in understanding the way in which the operative provisions of this schedule are to be applied.

Definitions and Abbreviations

- 9. In this schedule, unless the contrary intention applies:
 - arm's length entity, in relation to an employer whose workplace is to be classified, means an *entity that:
 - (a) is not a member of the same *group as the employer; or
 - (b) would not have a relationship of control with the employer within the meaning of subclause 24(8);

customer, in relation to an employer whose workplace is to be classified, means only a customer that is an arm's length entity in relation to that employer;

member, in relation to a *group, means an employer who is a member of the group;

n.e.c. means not elsewhere classified;

operational services means day-to-day, regional or divisional services and includes:

- (a) management services; or

and which are not high level strategic management services;

- out-of-state workplace means an area, or two or more *contiguous areas, of and outside Victoria occupied by the employer, or by an entity that is a member of the same group as the employer, which would be a workplace within the meaning of subclause 19 of it was located in Victoria.
- predominant industry, in relation to more than one workplace (including out-of-state workplace) of the employer or *group, means the *predominant activity of the workplaces treated as a single workplace;

WorkCover industry classification is abbreviated to class in this schedule.

10. In this schedule, where the word "include", "includes" or "including" appears, the matters to which that word refers are intended to be non-exhaustive.

Listed activities within a class

- 11. (a) Where activity has been listed under a class, that activity cannot be treated as corresponding or most closely corresponding to a different class.
 - (b) An activity can correspond or most closely correspond to a class even if it not listed as an activity in that class (i.e. the listed activities in a class are examples only and are not exhaustive).

Effect of exclusion references

12. The *predominant activity at a workplace cannot correspond or most closely correspond to a class if workplaces predominantly engaged in that activity are expressly excluded from that class.

Determining when an activity most closely corresponds to a class

Even if not expressly excluded from a class, a *predominant activity that appears to most 13. closely correspond to a particular class may most closely correspond to another class.

Example

Where an employer's predominant activity is growing vegetables undercover, this may appear to correspond to A01110 Nursery Production Undercover, which is defined to include growing plants undercover. However, growing vegetables undercover most closely corresponds to A01220 Growing Vegetables Undercover, which is specific to vegetable growing.

14. If a *predominant activity does not appear to correspond to a class, it will be classified to the class with which it most closely corresponds.

Example

Where an employer's predominant activity is providing dog obedience training, there is no class to which this activity corresponds. However, providing dog obedience training most closely corresponds to S95390 Other Personal Services.

Classification Issue: Business formation

Issue

15. A large number of new businesses start up in any given period. Before commencing regular operations, some employers need to undertake significant capital and/or other business formation activities ("capital and business formation activities") such as seeking out potential clients, obtaining equipment and premises and purchasing or preparing software. In many instances, these employers may decide to undertake these activities themselves. This raises the issue of whether the relevant workplaces of these employers should be given the classification corresponding to the capital and business formation activity or the classification corresponding to the business *predominant activity for which the capital and business formation activity is being undertaken.

Rule

16. A workplace at which capital and business formation activities are undertaken is classified according to the *predominant activity of the operations that are ultimately conducted at the workplace, or, if such operations have not commenced, the operations that are intended to be conducted at the workplace, rather than to the class corresponding to the capital and business formation activity.

Example

An employer starting a new manufacturing business may undertake the construction of a factory in preparation for the conduct of the business. In those circumstances the workplace will be classified to the appropriate class in Division C - Manufacturing and not to a class in Division E - Construction.

^{*}this term is defined in clause 5(2)

Sch. 1

WorkCover Premiums Order (No. 31) 2023/2024

SCHEDULE 1 - continued

Classification Issue: Installation

Issue

17. Installation, that is the placement of a product into position for use, including erection, assembly and fixing, can be undertaken in conjunction with other activities (e.g. manufacture or sales) or in isolation. This raises the issue of whether the workplace that undertakes installation activities is to be classified to installation or to some other activity.

Rule

18. A workplace predominantly engaged in manufacturing or selling its products to other persons and that also installs the products it manufactures or sells at the customer's premises (where installation is ancillary to the *predominant activity) is classified according to the predominant activity undertaken at the workplace, and not to an installation class.

Examples

- (a) An employer selling hot water systems to members of the public may arrange for the installation of the hot water system in the purchaser's dwelling. If the predominant activity of the workplace is selling hot water systems then installation is an ancillary activity and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Division G - Retail Trade.
- (b) An employer manufacturing elevators may also arrange for the installation of the elevator. If the predominant activity of the workplace is manufacturing elevators then installation is an ancillary activity and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Division C Manufacturing.
- (c) An employer manufacturing built-in furniture or joinery may arrange for the installation of the furniture or joinery. If the predominant activity of the workplace is manufacturing furniture or joinery then installation is an ancillary activity and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Division C Manufacturing.
- (d) An employer manufacturing commercial or industrial boilers may also arrange for the installation of the boilers. If the predominant activity of the workplace is manufacturing the boilers then installation is an ancillary activity and the workplace is classified to the appropriate class in Division C Manufacturing.
- 19. A workplace that is predominantly engaged in installation of a product will be classified to the appropriate class corresponding to the installation activity.

Example

Table 1 gives examples of some of the different classes for workplaces predominantly engaged in installation activities.

Classification Issue: Internal Management and Office Administration

Victoria Government Gazette

- 20. Some workplaces engage in the provision of management, organisational or administrative services to other workplaces of the same employer or *group. These services may be corporate head office management services or may be lower level operational services. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.
- 21. Corporate head office management services are high level strategic management services, including services directed at meeting corporate regulatory requirements, managing the company structure, providing strategic leadership, business and staff development and monitoring the performance of all of the company's workplaces or all of the other workplaces within the business *group. A workplace predominantly engaged in corporate head office management services does not predominantly undertake operational control of, or activities directly integral to, the other workplace activities of the employer or group (including design of products, marketing, production control, cost accounting, managing contracts, purchases and sales of products etc.). Corporate head office management services are provided to all the workplaces and out-of-State workplaces of a large multi-workplace employer or group of employers, not just some of those workplaces.

Rule

- 22. Workplaces that are predominantly engaged in the provision of operational services to:
 - (a) other workplaces, including out-of-State workplaces, of the employer; or
 - (b) other workplaces, including out-of-State workplaces, within the same *group as the employer, whether those other workplaces are in the same industry or different industries, are classified according to the predominant industry of the workplaces to which they provide these services.

23. Workplaces that are predominantly engaged in corporate head office management services (and that meet the other requirements set out in the class) are classified to class M69610 Corporate Head Office Management Services.

Example

A workplace that provides day-to-day management services (e.g. accounting, purchasing, payroll and human resource services) to the other workplaces of the employer that are predominantly engaged in footwear manufacturing will be classified to class C13520 Footwear Manufacturing and not to class M69610 Corporate Head Office Management Services.

Classification Issue: Manufacturers' Sales

Issue

24. Workplaces predominantly engaged in manufacturing products also often sell those products, whether to consumers or other businesses. This raises the issue of whether such workplaces are classified to Division C - Manufacturing or to either Division F - Wholesale Trade or Division G - Retail Trade.

Rule

25. Workplaces that are predominantly engaged in the manufacture of a product, and which also sell that product, are classified to manufacturing.

Example

A bakery that is predominantly engaged in the manufacturing of baked goods and also sells those goods directly to the customer from the same premises is classified to manufacturing.

26. A workplace that undertakes both the manufacture and the sale of its product and also sells products sourced from other arm's length entities (that is, a retail or wholesale activity) is classified according to its *predominant activity, which may be manufacturing, retailing or wholesaling depending on the circumstances.

^{*}this term is defined in clause 5(2)

SCHEDULE 1 - continued

Classification Issue: Rental, Hiring and Leasing of Machinery, Plant or Vehicles

Issue

27. Workplaces that are engaged in renting, hiring and leasing of machinery, plant or vehicles ("equipment") may do so with or without an operator. Other workplaces are involved in leasing equipment to arm's length entities under financial lease arrangements. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

- 28. Workplaces predominantly engaged in renting, hiring and leasing equipment without an operator are classified to Division L - Rental, Hiring and Real Estate Services.
- 29. Workplaces predominantly engaged in renting, hiring or leasing equipment with an operator are classified to the appropriate class within the Division that corresponds to the workplace where the equipment is predominantly used. This is because the output being provided is a particular service, rather than just the provision of equipment for rent, hire or lease.

Examples

When construction machinery is hired in conjunction with the operator, the service being paid for is a construction service and not just for the use of equipment for a period.

Other examples of hire with operator include:

- (a) hire of forestry machinery with operator (class A05100 Forestry Support Services);
- (b) hire of agricultural machinery (excluding forestry) with operator (class A05290 Other Agriculture and Fishing Support Services);
- (c) hire of mining machinery with operator (class B10900 Other Mining Support Services);
- (d) hire of earthmoving machinery with operator (class E32120 Site Preparation Services);
- (e) crane or construction machinery (except earthmoving) hire with operator (class E32920 Hire of Construction Machinery with Operator);
- (f) hire of motor vehicles with driver (class I46230 Taxi and Other Road Transport);
- (g) hire of boats with crew (class I48200 Water Passenger Transport); and
- (h) hire of aircraft with crew (class I49000 Air and Space Transport).
- 30. Workplaces predominantly engaged in the leasing of equipment to other arm's length entities under financial lease arrangements are classified to class K62300 Non-Depository Financing, because they are predominantly engaged in providing finance for the purchase of the equipment.
- 31. Workplaces predominantly engaged in the hire of linen or uniforms are classified to class S95310 Laundry and Dry-cleaning Services, as the hire is an integral part of a broader laundry service.

Classification Issue: Repair and Maintenance

Explanatory Provisions

32. Repair and maintenance activities, including rebuilding and reconditioning, are carried out on a wide range of items of plant, equipment, household appliances, personal goods, buildings and other structures. The classification of workplaces undertaking these activities is based on the degree to which the processes used are interchangeable between the creation, repair and maintenance of a product.

Sch. 1

Workplaces predominantly engaged in repair and maintenance are classified to Division C
 Manufacturing or Division E - Construction if a similar process is used for the creation, repair and maintenance of a product.

Example

Workplaces predominantly engaged in repair of installed security systems are classified to E32340 Fire and Security Alarm Installation Services because the processes used to install security systems are highly interchangeable with the repair or maintenance of installed security systems.

34. Workplaces predominantly engaged in repair and maintenance are classified to Division S -Other Services where a different process is used for the creation, repair and maintenance of a product.

Example

Workplaces predominantly engaged in shoe repair are classified to S94910 Clothing and Footwear Repair because the processes used to manufacture shoes are not highly interchangeable with the repair of shoes.

35. Table 2 gives examples of some of the different classes for workplaces predominantly engaged in repair and maintenance activities.

- 36. Workplaces predominantly engaged in providing cleaning or gardening services or undertaking forestry activities are classified to the relevant classes in Division A - Agriculture, Forestry and Fishing or Division N - Administrative and Support Services.
- 37. Where repair activities are carried out as an incidental activity by workplaces that are predominantly engaged in some other activity, the workplaces are classified according to their *predominant activity.

Classification Issue: Public Sector and Non-Public Sector Employers

Issue

38. Public sector and non-public sector employers may have different claims experiences. This raises the issue of cross subsidisation of premiums because all employers in a sector are assigned to the same class.

Explanatory provisions

39. Various activities, including rail passenger transport, correctional and detention services, primary education, secondary education, special school education, technical and vocational education and training, hospitals and psychiatric hospitals, are carried out by both public sector and non-public sector employers. The classification of workplaces undertaking these activities is based on the nature of the employer, as defined in the Order.

Rule

40. Workplaces of public sector employers are classified to the *public sector employer classification where one exists.

DIVISION A - AGRICULTURE, FORESTRY AND FISHING

INTRODUCTION

- 1. The Agriculture, Forestry and Fishing Division includes workplaces predominantly engaged in growing crops, raising animals, growing and harvesting timber, and harvesting fish and other animals from farms or their natural habitats and workplaces predominantly engaged in providing support services to workplaces engaged in production activities.
- 2. This Division distinguishes between two kinds of activities: production activities and support services to production activities. Production activities include horticulture, livestock production, aquaculture, forestry and logging, and fishing, hunting and trapping.

Definitions

3. In this Division:

agistment means the activity where a workplace takes in all or some livestock owned or leased by an arm's length entity in exchange for a fee for basic care and feed and does not include the activity where an *entity owns land and leases that land to another entity (the lessee) to graze the lessee's livestock;

agriculture means the growing and cultivation of horticultural and other crops (excluding forestry) and the controlled breeding, raising or farming of animals (excluding aquaculture);

aquaculture includes the controlled breeding, raising or farming of fish, molluscs and crustaceans;

fishing, hunting and trapping includes gathering or catching marine life such as fish or shellfish, or other animals, from their uncontrolled natural environments in water or on land;

forestry and logging includes growing, maintaining and harvesting forests, gathering forest products and felling, hewing or rough shaping of timber in the forest;

other grain growing means growing cereal or coarse grains or other cereal crops (except rice); and under cover includes greenhouses, cold frames, cloth houses and lath houses.

Classification Issue: Mixed farming activities involving sheep, beef cattle and/or other grain growing

Issue

4. Some workplaces are engaged in mixed farming which involves undertaking two or more of the following activities: sheep farming, beef cattle farming or other grain growing ("mixed farming activities"). Such workplaces may also be engaged in undertaking other activities in addition to mixed farming ("non-mixed farming activities"). This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rules

5. Workplaces engaged in mixed farming activities must be classified according to one of the following rules, which constitute exceptions to clauses 27 and 28(1) of the Premiums Order.

^{*}this term is defined in clause 5(2)

Sch. 1

WorkCover Premiums Order (No. 31) 2023/2024

- 6. Where an individual mixed farming activity:
 - contributes more than four times each other mixed farming activity to the value of goods produced at a workplace; and
 - b) is the *predominant activity when all the activities at the workplace (including non-mixed farming activities) are considered;

the workplace is to be classified to one of the following classifications:

A01410 – Sheep Farming (Specialised)

A01420 – Beef Cattle Farming (Specialised)

A01490 – Other Grain Growing

- 7. Where there is no individual mixed farming activity that contributes more than four times each other mixed activity to the value of goods produced at the workplace, the workplace is to be classified to:
 - a) A01440 Sheep-Beef Cattle Farming where:
 - i. the workplace:
 - (A) is not engaged in other grain growing; or
 - (B) is engaged in other grain growing but the combined activity of sheep and beef cattle farming contributes more than four times the activity of other grain growing to the value of goods produced at the workplace; and
 - ii. the combined activity of sheep and beef cattle farming is the *predominant activity when all the activities at the workplace (including non-mixed farming activities) are considered:

or

- b) A01450 Grain-Sheep and/or Grain-Beef Cattle Farming where:
 - the workplace is engaged in other grain growing and one or both of sheep farming and beef cattle farming; and
 - ii. where the workplace is engaged in all three of other grain growing, sheep farming and beef cattle farming, the combined activity of sheep and beef cattle farming does not contribute more than four times other grain growing to the value of goods produced at the workplace; and
 - iii. the combined activity of other grain growing and one or both of sheep farming and beef cattle farming as applicable is the predominant activity when all activities at the workplace (including non-mixed farming activities) are considered.
- 8. Where both mixed farming activities and non-mixed farming activities are undertaken at a workplace and where neither item 6 nor item 7 applies, the workplace will be classified according to clauses 27 and 28(1) of the Premiums Order, by reference to the *predominant activity undertaken at the workplace.

Classification Rule: Nursery and floriculture production

9. Nursery and floriculture production and the growing of vegetables are classified according to whether or not they are grown outdoors or under cover.

Classification Rule: Agistment

10. Agistment services are included as activities in the appropriate classes of Subdivision 01 Agriculture, namely horse farming, sheep farming, beef cattle farming and dairy cattle farming. Workplaces that carry out such activities on a fee or contract basis are given the same classification as workplaces that undertake the same activity for their own account and risk.

DIVISION B - MINING

INTRODUCTION

1. The Mining Division includes workplaces that are predominantly engaged in either mining or mining support activities.

Definitions

2. In this Division:

mining means all operations necessary for the extraction of natural resources, including:

- a) underground or open cut mining;
- b) dredging;
- c) quarrying;
- d) well operations or evaporation pans;
- e) recovery from ore dumps or tailings;
- f) beneficiation;
- g) iron ore pelletising;
- h) briquetting; and
- i) other preparation work customarily performed at the mine site, or as a part of mining activity, including the removal of overburden; mining support activities includes the provision of mining support services integral to the mining process on a contract or fee basis and exploration (except geophysical surveying);

natural resources includes:

- a) naturally occurring mineral solids, such as coal and ores;
- b) liquid minerals, such as crude petroleum; and
- c) gases, such as natural gas.

Classification Issue: Beneficiation of Minerals

3. Beneficiation is the process whereby mined material is reduced to particles that can be separated into mineral and waste, the former suitable for further processing or direct use. Beneficiation operations are primarily mechanical and involve such processes as grinding, washing and magnetic separation, and centrifugal separation. These activities are generally carried out at or near mine sites as an integral part of mining operations. In contrast, manufacturing operations primarily use chemical and electro-chemical processes, such as electrolysis and distillation to transform mined materials into new products. This raises the issue of the correct classification of a workplace predominantly engaged in beneficiation of minerals.

Rule

4. Workplaces predominantly engaged in beneficiating ores or other minerals are classified to the appropriate class in this Division.

General Provisions

- Workplaces in this Division are grouped and classified according to the natural resource mined or to be mined.
- 6. The products produced by workplaces classified to the Mining Division involve the minimum amount of processing to produce a marketable product.

Exclusions

7. Workplaces excluded from this Division include workplaces predominantly engaged in refining or smelting of minerals or ores (other than preliminary smelting of gold), or in the manufacture of such products of mineral origin as coke or cement (these workplaces are included in Division C - Manufacturing).

Subdivisions

- 8. This Division contains the following subdivisions:
 - 06 Coal Mining
 - 07 Oil and Gas Extraction
 - 08 Metal Ore Mining
 - 09 Non-Metallic Mineral Mining and Quarrying
 - 10 Exploration and Other Mining Support Services

DIVISION J – INFORMATION MEDIA AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS

INTRODUCTION

 - a) creating, enhancing and storing information products in media that allows for their dissemination:
 - b) transmitting information products using analogue and digital signals (via electronic, wireless, optical and other means); and
 - c) providing transmission services and/or operating the infrastructure to enable the transmission and storage of information and information products.

Definitions

2. Publishing means:

- a) the creation and dissemination of information; and/or
- b) owning or having a claim on a copyright and permitting other arm's length entities to use it in exchange for consideration is regarded as a publishing activity.

Classification Issue: Information Products

Issue

3. Information products are products that are not tangible, and, unlike traditional goods, are not associated with a particular form. The value of information products is in their content rather than in the format in which they are distributed. Such products do not usually involve direct contact between the supplier/producer and the consumer, which distinguishes them from distribution activities included in the Wholesale Trade and Retail Trade Divisions. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces engaged in creating, enhancing and disseminating information products.

Rule

4. Workplaces predominantly engaged in producing, enhancing and disseminating information products are included in this Division, rather than in Division C - Manufacturing, Division - F Wholesale Trade or Division G - Retail Trade.

Example

A movie is an information product. It can be screened at a cinema, telecast on television or copied to video for sale or rental. Its value is in its content, not in the format in which it is distributed. Workplaces predominantly engaged in producing, enhancing or disseminating movies are included in this Division.

Classification Issue: Workplaces that own copyright and distribution rights

Issue

5. Some workplaces own copyright and distribution rights but do not distribute the works to which they own the rights. This raises the issue of the correct classification of such workplaces.

Rule

6. Workplaces that own copyright and distribution rights are included in this Division, whether or not they distribute the works.
